By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Violence in labor disputes in the latest issue raised in the Senate battle over a civil rights-open housing bill already broadened by anti-riot provisions.

A battle over a civil rights-open housing bill already broadened by anti-riot provisions.

An amendment up for action at today's session, would provide federal protection against interfering by force or threats with workers going to or from their places of employment.

The amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., aimed at picket line violence, was adopted by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee last year but later thrown out by the full committee.

The civil rights bill would make it a federal crime to use force or threats to interfere with voting, jury service and other specifically protected rights.

Ervin said he plans to call up later another amendment, originally in the subcommittee bill, to prohibit labor unions from fining members who refuse to participate in a strike.

Action on the civil rights measure, now in its eighth week before the Senate, was slowed Thursday when a debate over the Vietnam war broke out.

But the Senate did write into the bill, by a 48-45 vote, a limited exemption from the open-housing section for nonowner-occupied single-family dwellings.

The amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., would permit the owner to sell or rent the dwelling without being subject to the ban on discrimination if he did not employ a real-estate agent or broker.

However, the exemption is restricted to persons not in the real estate business, who do not own more than three single-family dwellings, and who do not sell more than one of their houses within a 2-year period.

Hippie Mailmen Are a Problem

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The problem of hippie mailmen and their dress continues to be a concern of the San Francisco post office. The latest postmaster's newsletter says: "Hair (men) must be cut, or at least pinned above the ears. . . . If difficult to ascertain by visual inspection, employees' sex can always be obtained from their affidavit in personnel folder."

SECRETARY of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman tries skiing while visiting Vermont on a three-state tour to review problems and potentials of economically depressed areas in New England.

Bills for State Representative

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Charles Moore, 43, a farmer from Luxora, filed Thursday as a Democratic candidate for House Pos. 1 from District 18, which is Mississippi County.

Moore is seeking the seat currently held by Mrs. L. H. Autry of Blytheville, who replaced her late husband after winning a special election earlier this year.

Mrs. Autry has said she would not seek election to a full two-year term.

Hospital Grant to Crawford

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Thursday that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare had approved an $855,000 grant to Crawford County, Ark., Memorial Hospital.

The funds are to be used to help finance construction of a $1.6 million addition to the hospital.

Bennett Has No Second Thoughts

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Former Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, a possible candidate for the 1968 Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Thursday he would have no second thoughts about running against the Democrats who had been mentioned as possible candidates.

"I have traveled 26 counties in the last few weeks and I see it now as a wide open race," Bennett said. "I think people like to have you visit them before you announce for office. So, far, those Democrats mentioned as possible candidates, I would have no hesitation of running against them."

State Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman and Frank Whitbeck, a Little Rock insurance executive, have been mentioned most often as possible candidates.

Bennett said he was "testing the water" before making any announcement. He said the response he was receiving was causing him to weigh his chances carefully.

Bennett said he would visit Fayetteville today along with other northwest Arkansas cities.

ment to repair its leaky political and economic structures. It takes only mortar or rocket attacks to produce 100 per cent alerts and keep attention centered on the threat, Saigon is badly off balance.

In any case, corruption in South Vietnam has become an institution. South Vietnamese leaders, government and opposition, do not deny charges of corruption. They admit it and often pledge themselves to work against it.

Some of those now involved in proposing a program against corruption were ministers and generals in the past who at least tolerated widespread graft. Out of office, they can view it with public expressions of alarm. But the corruption continues and still is of huge proportions.

WAR DEATHS from Page One

since the Communists opened their lunar new year offensive Jan. 30.

The last three weeks have seen a record total of 543 combat deaths in the week ended Feb. 17, with 470 in the following week and 542 in the week ended March 2.

Whether this rate will continue—or possibly even rise—will hinge on any renewed Communist ground attacks in the cities, any North Vietnamese assault on Khe Sanh, the extent to which U.S. forces regain the offensive and the degree to which American troops must fill in gaps left by the South Vietnamese forces.

U.S. battle deaths have doubled and redoubled, reflecting the widening U.S. commitment over the years, the heavier infusion of American troops and the assumption by U.S. forces of a major combat role in the war.

The weekly average of battle deaths for the first nine weeks of 1968 comes to 358 men. That is about double the 1967 average of 180 a week. And the 1967 average was about double the 96-a-week average in 1966.

Rates for 1965 and earlier cannot be properly stacked against those for 1966 on because the United States did not get into its first major ground battles, with their heavier combat deaths, until late 1965.

The early years of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, starting with President John F. Kennedy's approval of a larger advisory role in November 1961, saw relatively few casualties compared with the losses for periods since mid-1965 when President Johnson ordered a major buildup of American ground troops in the war.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

SEED OF DOUBT POISONS WIFE
Dear Helen: Not long ago three friends came to lunch. They started talking about TV commercials, and how awful it was to allow so many sexy to sell everything from soap to airline tickets. One of the gals said her husband gets so glassy-eyed she turns off the commercials. Another said her hubby sends her out of the room for a glass of beer when the busty dame comes on, and once when she came back he was so bug-eyed she poured the glass of beer over his head to cool him down.

The third friend said sponsors had better think twice as to who buys most of their products — the women shoppers, that's who; and why do they think all TV watchers are men?

Then the talk shifted to men in general. The women said every man has secret dirt in him, and if your husband gives strict orders not to touch certain "business" papers, boxes, etc., you'd better do some looking and you'll get the shock of your dear life.

Well, I always got the innocent deal from my husband — "Oh, no, he'd NEVER flirt, though all the other men in his company do." To prove he was clean, I started looking in forbidden, secret places in his dresser — and found the dirtiest jokes, stories, pictures (imaginable) Some were years old. I burned everything. When he found out he exploded with anger.

Now, a good marriage is ruined, because my husband is a dirty old man. After 28 years of being an ignorant fool, and believing our love was good and fine, I have no other choice but to leave him. — AWAKE AT LAST

Dear Awake: You should have stayed asleep! And closed your ears to those three big-mouthed manhaters.

Look, my middle-aged innocent: many a "clean" man makes lurid collections at sometime or other — usually when a former bachelor puts his up for sale cheap. Because forbidden things make a nice guy feel daring, he doesn't throw them away, though he knows he should. When he is caught with the goods, he blows up at his "snoopy" wife, to shift the guilt.

Your husband isn't any different today than he has been all his married life. But presently he's as embarrassed as a boy nabbed in the girls' restroom. Tell him you understand — even if you don't; you're sorry for burning his possessions — even if you aren't; and FORGET IT! — H.

Dear Helen: My neighbors are mentally ill. Their actions, the way they walk, talk, dress and live are very strange.

What worries me is could the malady be catching? I have to live here, and am wondering if I may become a nut like them. — NOT CRAZY YET

Dear N.C.Y.: Not likely. Your "nutty" neighbors are probably wondering the same about you, so they stay out of "catching" distance.

Takes one to know one, yes? — H.

Dickinson Leads in Miami Play

By BEN FUNK

Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — For two happy weeks, George Knudson rode smoothly along golf's glory road. Then came the detour.

The lanky, red-haired Canadian had won two straight tournaments. He had a chance in the $100,000 Doral Open to make it three in a row—a feat last accomplished in 1960 when Arnold Palmer racked up the Texas, Baton Rouge and Pensacola opens in succession.

But in Thursday's opening round, Knudson veered onto a sidetrack rough with bogeys.

"It was a terrible effort," he said after posting a 76 and winding up 11 distant strokes behind the leader, Gardner Dickinson.

Knudson had come here bubbling with confidence after his victories at Phoenix and Tucson made him the year's top money winner. In less than three months, he had earned $50,310, more than he had ever banked before in an entire year.

He didn't realize it then, but the pressure was beginning to get to him.

Shortly after starting his round Thursday he said he realized that "I was getting pretty tied up—all on edge." Suddenly, the ball wasn't going where he aimed it.

"It was awful from the first shot to the last," he said. "I was never with it all day long."

There were no birds along the road, only bogeys. He collected five of them. Two came on the eighth and 10th holes when shots pulled out of line by the tension dropped into Doral's notorious water hazards and he took one-stroke penalties.

But when the shock wore off, Knudson decided that "it's a relief actually."

"I knew I couldn't keep it up," he said. "I've broken a string and now I'll just have to try to start a new one."

Dickinson, with no problem of pressure, fired a record-tying, seven-under-par 65 and went into Friday's second round with a two-stroke margin over Lionel Hebert and Howie Johnson.

NIT Pairings Are Almost Complete

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Fourteen of the 16 teams in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament have received word on their first round opponents. Only the Oklahoma City Chiefs remain in the dark today, knowing only that they will have perhaps the toughest time reaching the second round.

The pairings, released Thursday for the 31st annual tourney at Madison Square Garden, pits Oklahoma City against the runner-up of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, which ends Saturday.

Fifth-ranked North Carolina and sixth-ranked Duke are expected to battle for the title and the automatic bid to the NCAA tourney. The second place team goes to the NIT, which does not give the Chiefs much to choose from. Either North Carolina or Duke will be an NIT favorite with the ACC team already seeded first.

The Chiefs, 20-6, face the ACC runner-up in the second half of the opening night doubleheader next Thursday after Marshall, 17-7, and St. Peter's, 22-2, tangle in the first game.

Actually, the tournament, expanded from 14 to 16 teams last week, had no seedings, but it was learned that the draw was built around the ACC team, Dayton, Bradley and Kansas.

Kansas, 18-7, of the Big Eight swings into action Friday night against Temple, 19-6, before Villanova, 18-8, and Wyoming, 18-5, the Western Athletic Conference runner-up, square off.

Bradley, 19-8, which finished second in the Missouri Valley Conference, drew Long Island U., 21-1, the nation's top-ranked small college team, in the second half of a doubleheader Saturday afternoon. Army, 20-4, and Notre Dame, 18-8, meet in the opener.

A Saturday night doubleheader completes the first round with Fordham, 17-7, paired against Duquesne, 18-6, and

Loyola Is Going After the Cougars

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
If psychology can do it, the underdog Chicago Loyola Ramblers will score the biggest upset of the college basketball season by beating the top-ranked Houston Cougars in the first round of the NCAA championship tournament Saturday night.

The Ramblers, 16-8 for the season, go against the unbeaten 28-0 Cougars, led by the Big E, All-American Elvin Hayes, at Salt Lake City.

"Our players are all hopped up and we've sold them on the idea of beating Houston," said George Ireland, the Loyola coach who is no stranger to NCAA tournament competition. His Ramblers took the title in 1963 by beating Cincinnati. They were the underdogs then, too.

Ireland said if his players hit on their outside shots "then our full court press and the fast break at every opportunity may give Houston trouble."

"We kept telling our players all week to look at the papers so they could read they have no chance against Houston," Ireland added. He said Houston "figures to overpower us on the boards, but I think our speed and quickness can surprise them."

Another unbeaten team, third-ranked St. Bonaventure, risks its 22-0 record against Boston College at Kingston, R.I. in one of the other six first-round games Saturday in the NCAA.

Columbia battles LaSalle and Davidson meets St. John's of New York in an afternoon doubleheader at College Park, Md. Florida State takes on East Tennessee and Marquette faces Bowling Green at Kent, Ohio.

Rounding out the first round is New Mexico State against Weber State in the other half of the twin-bill at Salt Lake City.

North Carolina and Duke, fifth and sixth ranked in the Associated Press poll, won their first-round games in the Atlantic Coast Conference championship at Charlotte Thursday night.

North Carolina, paced by 31 points from All-American Larry Miller, whipped Wake Forest 83-70. Duke overcame Clemson's slowdown tactics to beat the Tilters 43-40 on six free throws in the closing minutes.

In the semifinals tonight, Duke is pitted against North Carolina State and North Carolina takes on South Carolina, N.C. State advanced by beating Maryland 63-54 and South Carolina whipped Virginia 101-78.

The winner of the ACC final Saturday night automatically lands a berth in the NCAA with the runner-up going to the National Invitation Tourney in New York. South Carolina is ineligible for postseason play, however, so if the Gamecocks should win the ACC, the NCAA and NIT berths will go to the next placed teams.

The NIT, which opens next week, March 14, announced its pairings Thursday. The opening night doubleheader pits Marshall against St. Peter's and Oklahoma City against the ACC representative.

Fordham, which faces Duquesne in the NIT on March 16, finished its regular season by beating Manhattan 72-66 in the first game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader. NYU downed Rutgers 56-49 in the second game.

Missouri routed Nebraska 91-70. Oklahoma defeated Colorado 84-78 and St. Louis vanquished Memphis State 77-65 in other major games.

Bad Blood Finally Spills Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's been bad blood between Eddie Shack and Larry Zeidel for 10 years and Thursday night some of it spilled.

Shack, the burly Boston forward, and Zeidel, a Philadelphia defenseman who has brawled his way through 17 seasons of professional hockey, cut each other about the head in an agonizing stick-swinging duel that cost each player a match penalty, automatic $100 fine and possible suspension.

The National Hockey League game was played on neutral Toronto ice—Philadelphia's Spectrum is closed because of wind damage—and Boston eked out a 2-1 victory to climb within one point of idle New York in the race for second place in the East Division.

Los Angeles and Minnesota moved into a second-place tie in the West, two points behind Philadelphia. The Kings walked off Oakland, 9-2, while the North Stars battled to a 2-2 deadlock with Pittsburgh.

The Shack-Zeidel feud dates back to an October 1958 exhibition game at Niagara Falls, N.Y., when Shack was a rookie with New York and Zeidel was playing for Hershey of the American League.

They went at each other with fists then, first on the ice and eventually in the stands. Both were arrested, with Zeidel later fined $200 on a charge of assaulting a police officer.

Zeidel wasn't content to fence with Shack Thursday after the pair collided on the ice. He almost ripped off the doors in the first-aid room in an effort to get at the Boston player.

The Bruins suffered another in a string of injuries when rookie ace Derek Sanderson was struck in the left eye by a teammate's slap shot and needed 12 stitches to close a cut. The eye swelled shut.

Goals by Ken Hodge and Gary Doak and the tight defense of goalie Gerry Cheevers carried Boston to victory. Pat Hannigan tallied for the slumping Flyers with 6½ minutes left.

The rescheduled game drew a crowd of 10,452, the first non-sellout at Maple Leaf Gardens since 1946.

At Los Angeles, the Kings exploded for four goals in the first period and blasted Oakland, with 12 players getting into the scoring column.

Lowell MacDonald was the only player to score more than one goal—he had two, plus an assist—but Bill White collected four assists. Gord Labossiere had three and Howie Menard scored a goal and two assists.

At Minnesota, the North Stars needed a goal by Sandy Fitzpatrick with 7:20 to play to deadlock Pittsburgh. Fitzpatrick, playing in his eighth game since being recalled from the Central League, also scored the first Minnesota goal. He now has three for the season.

Paul Andrea and Wayne Hicks tallied for the Penguins, who are three points behind St.

Robinson Signs for $115,000

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Baltimore's Frank Robinson and Philadelphia's Johnny Callison finally set pen to paper Thursday but the New York Yankees still are having trouble putting bat to ball.

While Robinson was signing for about $115,000 with the Orioles and Callison was wrangling more than $40,000 from the Phillies, the best weak-hitting Yankees could manage off a trio of Washington hurlers was three hits in squeezing out a 1-0 victory over the Senators in the first Grapefruit League exhibition.

"I didn't get exactly what I wanted, but I'm satisfied or else I would not have signed," said the 32-year-old Robinson, who won the Triple Crown while leading the Orioles to the 1966 world championship.

Robinson missed a month of the 1967 season with double vision after a baseline collision but still batted .311, second best in the American League. The slugging outfielder missed seven full days of practice but suited up soon after a signing and worked out.

Harry Dalton, Baltimore personnel director, said Robinson's contract makes him "one of the highest paid players in baseball history, probably the highest in the American League today."

Like Robinson, who had asked $125,000, Callison also had to compromise a bit.

"I didn't get what I wanted," Callison echoed, "but then, I didn't sign for what they wanted me to, either."

The right fielder, who slumped to a .261 batting average, 14 homers and 64 runs batted in last season, said he was in good shape—"the best shape I've ever been in"—and hoped to be in the exhibition lineup in about a week.

Callison said he was completely recovered from a torn knee cartilage and needed a week of batting practice to get his timing down.

The Yankees, meanwhile, looked much like last season's West.

Speakers for State Grid Clinic

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Joe

Dillard, president of the Arkansas High School Coaches Association, announced Thursday that Tex Winter, head basketball coach at Kansas State University and Jim "Red" Parker, head football coach at The Citadel, would be among the speakers at the annual coaches clinic at Little Rock Aug. 7-9.

Winter's teams have captured seven Big Eight Conference championships during the past 14 years and have had only one losing season.

Parker, former coach at Fordyce and Arkansas A&M, is rebuilding at The Citadel. His team went 4-6 in 1966 and 5-5 in 1967. The 5-5 mark is the institution's best since 1961.

Dillard also announced that Bill McClure, track coach at Abilene Christian College, would speak at the clinic along with W. T. Watson, basketball coach at Southern State and John Prock, football coach at Harding.

ninth-place good pitch-no hit club. The run came in the eighth inning on a delayed steal of home by outfielder Andy Kosco, drafted from the Minnesota Twins.

Kosco reached third on a single, infield out and wild pitch. When Ruben Amaro, who had walked, broke for second base, Washington catcher Bill Bryan tried to nail him and Kosco, not noted for his speed, beat the return throw home.

Right-handers Mel Stottlemyre, Bill Monbouquette and Jim Bouton, scattered five Senators hits.

Red Threat of Boycott Ignored

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians are threatening to pull out, along with some 40 other nations, but Avery Brundage and host Mexico contend there is no change in plans for the Olympic Games.

"Everything is still as is, Brundage, the president of the International Olympic Committee said in Chicago Thursday after the Russians had delivered a sharply worded demand that South Africa be omitted from the Games.

And in Mexico City, site of the October Games, lodging control officer Ramon Alatorre said none of the nations that have announced their boycotts have yet canceled their room reservations.

The Russian demand, presented in the form of a resolution by the Soviet Olympic Committee, said:

"If the International Olympic Committee refuses to convene an emergency session and insists on its decision about South Africa, the USSR Olympic Committee will be impelled to reconsider the question of participation of Soviet sportsmen in the Summer Olympics in 1968."

Forty nations—including 32 from Africa—have announced their intention to boycott the 1968 Games because of readmission of South Africa, barred since 1963 because of its apartheid policy.

The boycotting nations complain that South Africa has not completely rescinded its policy. The Russian action was expected. The Soviet Sports Federation had taken a similar stand earlier in the

The correct opening lead against a slam contract is not the same lead you should make against a lower contract in the same suit.

Take a singleton lead as an example. You will find that every book on play includes an example of a player with the ace of trumps opening a singleton against a game contract on the theory that if his partner holds the ace of that suit he will get an immediate ruff, while even if his partner doesn't hold the ace there will be an excellent chance to get a ruff later if declarer isn't able to pull trumps immediately.

If West were on lead against a four heart contract, we might recommend the lead of the singleton nine of clubs. West would expect his partner to hold some defense and West would really expect to get in a ruff at some stage of the play.

When West led that singleton nine against the slam contract, he was taking the worst of it. He also was properly punished since that nine spot lead produced the jack from dummy, the king from East and the ace from South. South proceeded to knock out the ace of trumps whereupon West shifted to a diamond. South won, drew the rest of the trumps and took repeated finesse through East's 10-6-3 of clubs to make the rest of the tricks.

South might still have made the hand if West had opened differently, but the play would have been unnatural in the

as you would have others do unto you.
— THE GOSPEL OF MATTHEW

Light in the dark

We are in peril... everyone of us, every business, home, church, nation — the whole world. But there is a Beacon Light to Guide us. How foolish if we batten down the hatches, close the doors, and speed-up the noisy music. We may shut out the sound of waves, sight of rocks, and the roar of storms, BUT WE CAN'T SHUT OUT GOD. He is the Light in every storm and will surely guide your ship when the seas are heavy. There will be light in darkness for those who look upward.

His church supplies hope for souls whose ambitions have been wrecked. There shall be "LIGHT IN THE DARK."

You In The Church...
The Church In You
Form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be a faithful worker. Attend every service.

Bone Spurs Cause Pain When Pressing on Nerve
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q-I have arthritis of my spine. X rays show bone spurs pressing on the spinal nerves. Would infrared light help me or is there a better treatment?

A-Bone spurs are found in most persons with arthritis of the spine. They cause no pain unless, as in your case, they press on a nerve. Heat in the form of infrared light, diathermy or an electric pad may give temporary relief but will not cure the condition. Most surgeons prefer a fusion operation that will relieve the pressure on the nerve and prevent movement of the spine. This gives the surgeon a chance to put your spine in the best position and prevents crippling deformity.

Q-I have a painful bone spur in my heel. Is it caused by a calcium deficiency? Will it get worse? What is the best treatment?

A-The causative factors include arthritis, age (over 50), overweight and poorly fitted shoes. It is not caused by a calcium deficiency but an accumulation of calcium at a point where the heel is subjected to continued trauma. It is not likely to grow larger unless the injury is repeated day after day. A similar spur in a location where it was not subjected to daily weight-bearing pressure could exist for years without you ever knowing you had it.

Q-Is aspergillus hereditary? One doctor told me that an infection must have existed before the onset of this disease. What did he mean? What is apical tuberculosis?

A-Aspergillus is an infection with Aspergillus, a fungus found chiefly in birds. It is not hereditary. The Aspergillus spores are inhaled and cause a chronic bronchitis or pneumonia. Although the fungus is widespread it does not gain a foothold in the lungs unless the tissues are weakened by some other

LABOR MEDIATOR Theodore W. Kheel has advocated a revision of the Taylor Law, which he says is unfair to workers as it now stands. The revision would avert strikes by public employees by providing for arbitration in cases where collective bargaining failed.

Body of One Marine Is Recovered

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — The near-freezing waters of the Potomac River apparently permitted no survivors from a group of nine enlisted men—expert swimmers all—who attempted a crossing in a large canoe.
Hand-picked trainees at a Marine school for physical fitness instructors at this Marine base, they included five Vietnam veterans.
The body of one victim was recovered Thursday about eight miles below the base.
He was identified as Marine Staff Sgt. Kenneth M. Andrews. Eighteen hours before, he and his eight classmates had set out to cross and re-cross the river in a canoe large enough to hold all comfortably. Life preserver cushions were used as kneeling pads by the paddlers.
A massive land, water and air search continued today for the seven Marines and one Navy man still missing but hopes for finding them alive had dimmed.
The men—one instructor and eight students—were beginning the ninth week of a 12-week course at the Physical Fitness Academy, a school training instructors in close combat, physical fitness and water survival.
Their class was the second to go through the academy, which opened last April.
The men expected to cross the Potomac to the Maryland shore—a distance of 2.2 miles—and return in two hours.
They had spent two days becoming familiar with their 25-foot long, 4-foot wide canvas canoe in short trips close to shore before attempting the river crossing.
They left the base at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday and apparently made it across because fishermen spotted them in mid-river about 4:15 p.m., heading toward the base "with everybody rowing strong and everything going fine."
When they didn't arrive at the pier at 4:30 p.m., a crash boat was dispatched to search for them. Then came the helicopters.
About two hours later, the empty canoe was spotted capsized in the water.
Although the men were described as expert swimmers, the 36-degree water temperature was believed too cold for even the best-conditioned human to survive in. They wore sweatsuits and gym shoes.

Copper Strike Talks Getting Nowhere

By NEIL GLIBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations called by the White House in an effort to settle the nation's 238-day copper strike reportedly are getting nowhere. Sources say another nudge from President Johnson may be in the offing.
The unwieldy talks, involving more than 100 negotiators and spread through a dozen or more rooms in the Executive Office Building just steps from the White House, are bogged down in procedural details and renewed hostility over wage offers, these sources said.
Despite a news blackout imposed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, one insider said, "There's a feeling Johnson is going to have to get both parties back together."
White House press secretary George Christian said Johnson hasn't seen the negotiators since first calling them to the White House last Monday. Then he warned that the strike was threatening the U.S. foreign-trade position, prosperity at home and supplies for the Vietnam war.
Christian's only report on the negotiations Thursday was that talks were continuing between the 26 striking firms—Kennecott, Anaconda, Phelps Dodge and American Smelting and Refining.
But informed sources said company negotiators were irritated at what they felt were vague and excessive union wage demands, and that one union representative was threatening to walk out unless he got a meaningful counter-offer from one of the companies.
"They aren't getting anywhere," one report said. "They're a long way from doing anything."
The unions reportedly were asking three-year increases of $1.50 to $2 per hour in increased wages and fringe benefits, compared with about $1 accepted in previous settlements with three smaller firms.
Prestrike wages ranged from $2.66 to $3.67 an hour, averaging $3.28 industrywide for various mining, smelting, refining and fabricating jobs.
The unions' joint negotiating team reportedly was also running into physical problems in dealing with the larger number of negotiators for the four companies.
"One company is platooning its people against the same union group," it was reported.
Each company's negotiations are split into three or more groups because they refuse un-

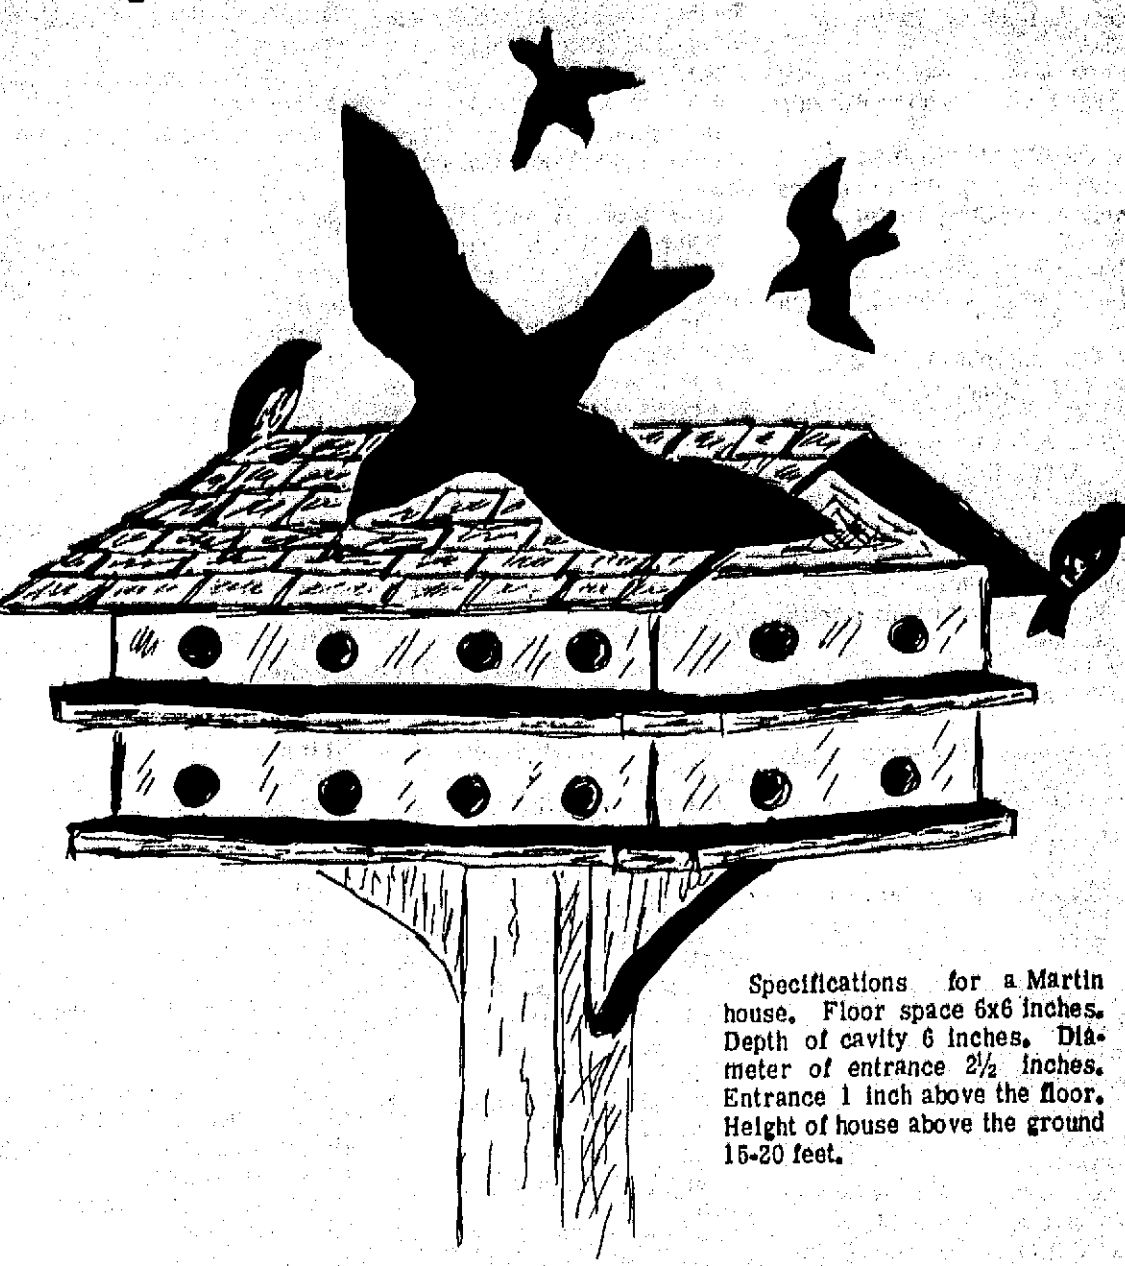

Rhodesia to Execute More Africans

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia's white minority regime is expected to execute more Africans despite the mounting uproar touched off abroad by the hanging Wednesday of three blacks reprieved by Queen Elizabeth II.
Eight more blacks convicted of terrorism were sentenced to death by the Rhodesian High Court Thursday, bringing to 115 the number of Africans facing execution in Rhodesia.
In London on Thursday Prime Minister Harold Wilson ruled out any reprisal action that could sever Britain's frail link with its former colony. Wilson attempted to enlist support of the Conservatives and Liberals for an all-party resolution in Parliament accusing Smith's regime of an inhuman, unlawful and immoral act. But Conservative leader Edward Heath would not go along.
Wilson said his government is showing restraint partly because of the others under the death sentence. There were also fears in London that mass hangings in Rhodesia could provoke the blacks into starting a massacre.
One Laborite member of the British House of Commons, William Molloy, called for an emergency meeting of the Commonwealth nations to consider means of bringing down Smith's regime.
"Unless this is done swiftly," he said, "the blood that has been let loose this week might result in a bloodbath in Africa."

ion demands for company-wide bargaining, the issue that has prolonged the walk-out into the longest U.S. copper strike in history. The strike will be eight months old next Friday.
Christian denied an earlier report that Johnson suggested on Monday the negotiators concentrate on money issues and set aside the company-wide bargaining issue at least for the time being.
The source of the report, who attended the Monday meeting, stuck with his version after Christian's denial. "This is my understanding of what the President said," he insisted.
Johnson has urged the negotiators to use as a framework a government recommendation rejected earlier by the unions to break the talks into three main segments. One would cover copper mining, smelting and refining. The second would cover production of other nonferrous metals such as lead and zinc.

Incidents of Aug. 2 and 4, 1964, involving two U.S. destroyers and North Vietnamese torpedo boats. He concluded the Johnson administration gave misleading information to Congress regarding alleged attacks by the Communist vessels.
Kennedy renewed his charge there is "deep seated corruption" in the South Vietnamese government. He said Johnson had commented on such allegations recently in a Beaumont, Tex., speech that "there's stealing in Beaumont, Tex."
"If there's stealing in Beaumont, Tex., it's not bringing about the deaths of American boys," Kennedy said.
Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., said the escalation decision "should not be made by one man." Others who said Congress should be consulted included Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Jack Miller, R-Iowa.
In Springfield, Ill., Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey challenged Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon to tell how he would end the war.
Nixon said while campaigning in New Hampshire recently that if he were elected he would end the war.
"If you know how to end the war and bring peace to the Pacific, Mr. Candidate, let the American people hear your formula now," Humphrey said.

Trend Away From Adult Pictures

Mrs. Henry Seamans, manager of the Saenger and Dixie Drive in theatres in Hope, has returned from attending the showama convention in Kansas City Missouri, with 1500 other theatre executives from 42 states.
While there Mrs. Seamans was present when Charlton Heston was awarded the "Star of the Year" trophy, and Stella Stevens the female star of the year. The presentation to Miss Stevens, a Memphis born girl, was awarded after Mrs. Seamans and other theatre people had seen a preview of her new picture "Where Angels Go—Trouble Follows", co starring Rosalind Russell.
Mrs. Seamans stated—"This is the kind of motion picture I love to show in Hope—a picture for the whole family, loaded with laughs. I can hardly wait for you to get to see it." It will be released this summer.
Many other stars were present at the convention including Raquel Welch, Debbie Reynolds, George Jessell. Previews of more than 50 films were also seen while in Kansas City.
Mrs. Seamans commented—"I can see a trend away from adult pictures, back to family pictures starting this year. We will have some of both in the near future—but our pictures look really fine for 1968."
"For example—in Hope during the next month we will offer such films as "Happiest Millionaire" and "Jungle Book" from Disney. That sensational true life adventure "High Wild and Free". The giant spectacle of "Spartacus" starring Charlton Heston, who I was thrilled to meet at the convention, will be here soon. For variety we will have the political story that is the talk of the nation, "The President's Analyst"—and for action Frank Sinatra as "Tony Rome". For real adult entertainment—we will bring to Hope the film the supreme court ruled as "not obscene"—but we will show it only with proof of age 18 or older—"I am a Woman". We must mention the forthcoming showing of what we consider one of the fine films of this year "To Sir With Love", starring Sidney Poitier.
"Yes, we're proud and happy to be a part of the Motion Pic-over the people and shroud the nation's cities each year."

He also sought action on water pollution and control of "the debris of civilization" littering landscapes and spoiling beaches.
"Conservation's concern now is not only for man's enjoyment but for man's survival," he said.
Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall told newsmen the program carries a $1.2 billion price tag, compared with $565 million now being spent. Udall called the message "the most comprehensive, most significant conservation message ever sent up to Congress by a President."
A key proposal was more government aid to communities building waste-treatment plants to fight water pollution, with the aim of generating $1.4 billion worth of plant construction.
The President also urged final congressional action on legislation to save these natural wonders:
1. The Potomac River, which weaves along Washington, Maryland and Virginia for some 200 miles, by making it a national river, because failure to preserve it "will make us the shame of generations to come."
2. California—Desolation wilderness in El Dorado National Forest, Ventana Wilderness in Los Padres National Forest, wilderness-area designation for the San Rafael and San Gabriel wilderness expanses.
3. Colorado—The Flat Tops.
4. Arizona—Mt. Baldy, Pine Mountain, Sycamore Canyon.
5. The Spanish Peaks.
Johnson said other possible preservation areas being surveyed are in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Georgia and Florida.
The President also asked Congress to strengthen government controls dealing with aircraft noise. Planes would be certified on the basis of noise levels.

Toro, 23, won the $100,000 Florida Derby, the $50,000 Florida Stakes and the $25,000 Florida Sprint.
Toro, who has won 10 races in 1968, is the first Chilean-born jockey to win three races in a single day.

U.S. Moving to Plug Dollar Drain

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Science Foundation and the Agency for International Development are cracking down on scientists who use foreign airlines on government-financed travel.
The move is aimed at plugging one source of the U.S. dollar drain.
The Johnson administration is seeking a tax on most foreign travel of U.S. citizens as one step toward reducing the balance-of-payments deficit.
But The Associated Press disclosed last month that the government itself is contributing to the travel drain by not making sure that all its contractors and other U.S.-financed, nongovernment employees use U.S. airlines wherever possible.
At a recent orientation meeting, the National Science Foundation warned 180 persons who are going to India for science development work this summer that they'll have to pay for any portion of their travel flown on foreign airlines.
Some prospective itineraries—one including eight separate legs on foreign airlines—have been ordered revised.
Officials of both AID, which finances the India program, and NSF, a government agency which operates it, said there have been mild gripes from some participants but no official complaints.
Russell Dilts, assistant director of AID's office of technical support, contended the travel has "been pretty well policed" in the past. But he acknowledged "there's no question about it" that enforcement is being stepped up now.
A National Science Foundation spokesman said essentially the same thing. Neither could estimate how many dollars might be involved in all such travel. Airline ticket costs for the India group alone will be about $208,000.
Transportation regulations require travel on U.S. airlines—but include a series of exceptions. The broadest allows travel on a foreign line, "where the departure time, routing or other features of a U.S. carrier flight would interfere with or prevent the satisfactory performance of official business."

It is the exceptions which are being interpreted more strictly, at least by some administrators. Under contractor operations such as the India program, the government authorizes an office of a U.S. overseas airline to issue a direct-routing ticket to the travelers.
In some cases, persons traveling at government expense have asked for numerous stopovers en route and then have taken foreign airlines on some portions of the trip. On a lengthy trip such as to India, many extra stops can be included at no extra cost.
The dollar-drain problem comes if the U.S. airline must split its revenue for the trip with the foreign lines.

Democratic Ad in Spa Newspapers

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Garland County Democratic Committee said Thursday in ads appearing in the Hot Springs Sentinel-Record and New Era that the election of a Democratic governor would restore efficiency, honesty and tranquility.
The ads asked "Had Enough, Whipping Boy?"
They said: "Who lies? Our duty elected state senator? Our duty elected state representatives? Our Chamber of Commerce? Our Convention Center Bureau? Several hundred Hot Springs citizens, or Rockefeller?"
Committee Chairman Duffie Searcy paid for the ads. Members of the committee also signed the ads.
Garland County legislators charged last year that Rockefeller had promised them he would allow a bill to become law which would permit casino-type gambling at Hot Springs. Rockefeller vetoed the measure.
Three Hot Springs clubs were raided last week by the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. H. Dane Harris, owner of the Vapors Club, said after the raids that he had been told the "governor's office" had assured a committee of leading Hot Springs residents that the sale of mixed drinks would not be "bothered" during the current horse racing season at Oaklawn Park.

Gas Scatters Youths at El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Police used tear gas and chemical mace Thursday to scatter a crowd of about 60 Negro teenagers who, the police said, had been hurling stones and bricks at passing vehicles.

Police Chief R. E. Pennington said the windshield of at least one passing car was broken by the youths and that Charles Williams, 24, had been arrested and charged with inciting a riot.

A group of about five Negro youths broke windshields and windows of several cars Thursday night in another section of town, police said, and two of the youths were arrested. They were not immediately identified.

Mayor L. L. Pesses declared a state of emergency Thursday and ordered a 9 p.m. curfew for Friday and Saturday.

Pennington said the disturbances were sparked by the acquittal Friday of Allen Smith, 17, of El Dorado. Smith had been charged with first degree murder in the shotgun slaying of Larry Wainwright, 19, of El Dorado. He said there had been no injuries.

Wainwright, a Negro, was killed the night of Sept. 30, 1967.

Pennington said there was a "change in the attitude" immediately following Wainwright's slaying.

About 300 Negroes marched 2½ miles Sunday in a peaceful protest of the acquittal of Smith. The group marched from the northern outskirts of this city of about 25,000 to downtown El Dorado.

Pennington termed the disturbances the "little spasmodic incidents." He declined to speculate whether there would be more incidents.

He said, however, if anything happened "I think we would be able to stand our ground. If I didn't think that, we'd be calling in somebody else."

The chief said the youths gathered about a block from the Negro Washington High School after school was dismissed Thursday. He said the youths refused to heed pleas of officers and two Negro ministers, asking them to disperse.

Burglar Takes Seven Guns

A burglar entered LaGrone Williams Hardware Co. on Elm St. in downtown Hope about 11:30 last night and so far as could be determined took only guns, City Police reported.

Officers said the thief gained entrance by breaking the front door glass. So far seven guns are missing, mostly 22 calibre and one 12 gauge shotgun.

The investigation continues.

Many Things Taken for Granted May Have Been a Bit Over-emphasized

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Our lives are full of things we take for granted.

These include opinions, theories, people, ideas and institutions. A great many of them are inherited. They become so commonplace in time that it would seem almost heretical to question or try and change them.

They achieve a stature or value they don't always deserve anymore and perhaps never did. It is good for the soul now and then to pause and re-examine their validity.

Here, for example, is a tentative list of things that possibly have become a bit overrated:

Home cooking.
Milton Berle.
Skiing.
Miniskirts.
Magazine brassiere ads.
The joys of motherhood.
The benefits of the federal highway program.

The poetry of Allen Ginsberg.
Public interest in naughty novels.
Black or white nationalism.
That overworked phrase—"as American as apple pie."

The supposed thrill of taking a kid to see his first circus.
The thought that all politi-

Senators Want a Say Before Any Further Buildup in Vietnam

By ROBERT GRAY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and J. W. Fulbright have fueled a new eruption of Senate debate on Vietnam with demands that Congress be given a say before any major buildup of U.S. forces in the war zone.

Fulbright triggered Thursday's debate by asserting President Johnson is considering a big increase in U.S. military forces in Vietnam.

Kennedy, called current U.S. policies in Vietnam "immoral and intolerable." The New York Democrat said Congress should be consulted on military plans and he added:

"Are we like God? Are we empowered to decide which cities, villages and hamlets will be destroyed? Do we have the authority to kill thousands and thousands because we say we have a commitment?"

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Johnson has "tried hard and vigorously and consistently to find a way to the negotiating table." But Mansfield said there should be a full consultation with Congress before any "sizeable increase" in the present 525,000-man troop ceiling.

Earlier, Prof. John T. McAlister Jr. of Princeton University, a specialist in Vietnam politics and culture, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee it would take 3 million to 15 million U.S. troops to gain a military victory enabling this country to dictate terms of a settlement.

Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who heads that committee, again attacked the validity of the so-called Gulf of Tonkin resolution, saying it was "based on false representations."

The overwhelming adoption of the resolution by Congress in 1964 preceded the rapid escalation of American troop strength in Vietnam.

Fulbright recently held hearings on the controversial naval See SENATORS WANTS on Page Ten

$1.2 Billion Asked of Congress to Preserve the Natural Resources

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson summoned Congress today to help renew the nation through a $1.2 billion program to conserve America's natural resources, "not only for man's enjoyment, but for man's survival."

The President put priority on his conservation program, which focuses on the goal of pure water and air, ending despoiling of the land, and preserving and creating beauty, and added measure of serenity and more outdoor recreation facilities. The program proposes a probe of "peaceful promises of the ocean's depth" in cooperation with other nations.

It seeks new authority to act against shipwreckers who discharge oil along the shores, in part by assessing them with the cost of cleaning up the mess. The latest oil pollution incident, at San Juan, Puerto Rico, spread 1.5 million gallons of oil over bay and beaches when a tanker broke in two earlier this week.

Johnson asked for governmental authority to control strip mining which leaves the land scarred and barren.

He asked for more national parks and wilderness areas. Urging action against air pollution, he said: "From the great smokestacks of industry and from the exhaust of motors and machines, 130 millions tons of soot, carbon and grime settle

16 Miners Found Dead in Louisiana

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
CALUMET, La. (AP) — Sixteen of 21 salt miners trapped for more than two days 1,200 feet below earth when fire ravaged a salt mine were found dead today. There was no word on whether the other five were alive.

"I cannot repeat this but once," said Clayton Tonnemaker, a Cargill, Inc., executive. "It is tragic news."

The word from a four-man rescue squad that had gone down into the blackened hole of the Cargill mine brought screams and moans from the crowd that had gathered during the course of a frantic two-day rescue effort.

He said the bodies were found on the floor of the mine which fans out in catacombs through awesome, white pure salt. Another rescue team was sent back into the mine to search for the other men.

The mine is located in a marshy area on the edge of the Gulf of Mexico, accessible only by boat or plane. A large area behind the building covering the shaft was roped off to land helicopters.

Officials did not say when any attempts would be made to raise the bodies.

War Deaths in Vietnam Now 19,251

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. battle deaths in Vietnam have escalated to such a rate they could surpass the Korean War toll by presidential election day.

The latest rundown on Vietnam combat deaths raised the total to 19,251 through March 2. This is still 14,378 short of the Korean War mark of 33,629 killed on the battlefield.

But the toll has climbed recently to a level of around 500 a week.

If this should keep up over the 35 weeks until election day Nov. 5, the death count could top 36,000.

The Korean War lasted three years, with fighting and negotiating going on at the same time during the last two years.

The United States has been involved in the Vietnam war for more than six years, but the air war against the North and the extensive U.S. commitment on the ground are three years old.

ESD Places 50 in Jobs in February

Local employers hired 50 non-agricultural workers, using the services of the Hope Office of the Arkansas Employment Security Division, and 16 agricultural workers during the month of February, 1968, Teddy Jones, manager of the Office, announced today.

The office received job openings for 83 workers during the month, Mr. Jones said, and referred 103 for the employer's selection. There were 33 females referred and 15 hired.

New applications for work were received from 311 workers over the month, bringing the total number of applications now on file in the local office to 739.

Initial claims for unemployment insurance reflected the start of a new benefit year, closing of a local plant, and inclement weather conditions, as 258 persons in the area filed initial claims for unemployment insurance. This was 83 more initial claims filed than for the same month of 1967.

Mr. Jones urged all employers needing workers to list their job openings with the local office. At the same time, he urged those people seeking employment to make application for work at the local office, which is located at 700 South Elm Street, Hope.

Vietnam Group Plans to Launch Campaign Against Corruption

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
SAIGON (AP) — A group of prominent politicians says it will propose publicly next week that a program be launched to combat the corruption which abrades American-Vietnamese relations.

Top government figures have a hand in this. The development comes at a time of mounting criticism from Americans of the graft which has infected the whole political body of this nation.

The group, members of the National Salvation Committee, says it is wholly sincere. But this resolution comes late, at a time of a crisis of national confidence, and a veteran American official says:

"There is not a hope in the world of making even a dent in the system of corruption which has been built up over the years. It is a system of organized anarchy. Many politicians are 'sincere' about wanting to do something about it, but the 'sincerity' means it's time for the other fellow to stop stealing."

The shock of the Tet offensive has brought at least an appearance of willingness to act. Opposition politicians told this correspondent they are reviving an engagement from President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky in proposing a program. It is still a vague idea, yet to be spelled out.

They said the proposal will be made at a congress of 1,000 persons from all parts of the country, meeting Sunday under the auspices of the National Salvation Committee, formed just after the Communist attacks on 40 major population centers. "The meeting has government blessing."

The congress has invited representatives of all non-Communist political shades, all religious sects, labor groups and associations. The corruption proposal will be just one aspect of an agenda dealing with problems spotlighted by the Communist offensive.

But the offensive itself has made it difficult to get any non-war program on the road. It has brought a sort of creeping paralysis, the Communists now have so much initiative that they can hamper, if not paralyze, any efforts of the govern-

Fighting Is Savage in DMZ Area

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported savage fighting below the eastern end of the demilitarized zone and announced the appointment of a U.S. Army general to command the Marines and other defenders of the critical northern frontier.

U.S. spokesmen also reported the heaviest air strikes against North Vietnam in more than a month.

A task force of U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese Infantrymen battled 500 Communist troops for seven hours Thursday near Dong Ha, the forward Marine Base supplying other allied outposts along the DMZ.

Aided by tactical fighter-bombers and artillery, the allied troops reported killing 138 Communist soldiers. U.S. headquarters said the South Vietnamese troops accounted for 123 of the enemy dead and the Marines for the other 15. Marine casualties were 15 killed and 124 wounded, with 76 of the wounded requiring hospitalization. South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

U.S. headquarters said several battalions of South Vietnamese Infantrymen ran into the enemy force about noon while sweeping the Cua Viet River delta, a Communist stronghold on the coastal marshlands. Troops of the 3rd and 4th Marine regiments were on the east flank of the South Vietnamese task force when heavy fighting developed.

The Marines, a special landing team of about 1,000 men that was put ashore more than a month ago, have been sweeping north of the Cua Viet River, while the South Vietnamese have been operating south of the river. A week ago the combined force killed 234 North Vietnamese in the same area.

At Khe Sanh, South Vietnamese Rangers surprised more than 100 North Vietnamese troops today as they slipped up on the Marine base and killed 27 of the enemy as they emerged from a tunnel just outside the base's barbed wire perimeter.

The lieutenant leading the North Vietnamese was wounded. When the Rangers started out to get him, he shot himself in the head to escape capture, AP correspondent Robert Ohman reported from the besieged Marine fortress.

Ohman reported that the Communists shelled the base all day, pumping in a round of artillery or a rocket about every 10 minutes. He said one helicopter just missed a big CH-47 helicopter taking off with a load of wounded Marines.

Farther south, government troops reported killing 21 Communist soldiers four miles east of Hue and uncovering the bodies of 25 enemy soldiers in the same area.

Meanwhile, Gen. William C. Westmoreland announced the organization of a new northern headquarters in which Marine Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman retains overall command of the five threatened northern provinces.

Recognition to Local 1st Assembly

First Assembly of God in Hope has received special recognition for giving. The Church has been informed that it ranked seventh in Arkansas in total cooperative giving to national and district ministries, for the year ending December 31, 1967.

Mr. Willhite, pastor of the church for the past five years, stated that, "this means we rank seventh among a total of around 500 churches in the Arkansas District of the Assemblies of God."

Pastor Willhite stated further that this special recognition was earned because the members and friends of the church had responded, generously, when the offering plate was passed, and that the honor had been received at a time when the church was in the process of carrying a rather heavy financial load in the local work.
